DEFINES STATUS OF ALL PLANTS

War Industries Board Creates New List of Priorities to Remedy Defects.

MAKES FOUR CLASSES

Plan Governs Issuance of Certificate for Fuel Supply, Electricity, Transportation, Labor and Basis for Draft Exemption.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Chairman Baruch of the war industries board has announced a new priorities list of industries and plants essential to the war or civil population.

It was described as the "master key" governing the issuance of priority certificates by the priorities commissioner of the board for fuel supply or electrical energy, transportation, terminal facilities, capital, and labor and as the basis for industrial exemption from the draft.

"The inclusion of the industries and plants on this preference list," said the announcement, "does not operate as an embargo against all others, but the effect is to defer the requirements of all other industries and plants until the requirements of those on the preference list shall have been satisfied."

Four Classes Selected.

Industries have been grouped into four classes according to their relative importance. No distinction, however, has been made between any of the industries or plants within any one class and it was explained that no significance is to be attached to the order in which they are listed within any class. The industries or plants under Class 1 are of exceptional importance and include those most vital to the prosecution of the war and the public and their requirements must be fully met in preference to those of the three remaining classes.

Fuel for domestic consumption—residences, apartment houses, restaurants and hotels—is in Class 1. In that class also are food, railways operated by the railroad administration, the army and navy, aircraft, ships and shipyards, war chemical plants, coal mines and by-product coke plants, certain public utilities, ordnance and small arms plants and ammunition and explosives.

Priority to Be Conditioned.

Requirements of those grouped under Class 2, 3 and 4 will be given priority over those not on the preference list, but as between these three classes there is no complete or absolute preference provided. Relative importance of the industries and plants within each group will be the basis of operation.

Each plant listed in the three last classes will be required to file with the War Industries board before the 15th of each month a report of its activities during the preceding month. Failure to comply with this order will mean removal from the preference list.

NEUTRAL NATIONS PROTEST

Warn Bolshevik Against Execution of Civilians.

Amsterdam, Sept. 9.—The Berlin Tageszeitung's Moscow correspondent says the neutral diplomats have jointly protested to M. Allied Armies Continue to Cut Their Way Into German Lines on West Front.

LE HAMEL IS TAKEN

French Are Now Within Five Miles of St. Quentin, an Important Railway Junction—British Are Moving Rapidly.

London, Sept. 9.—French and British forces continue to cut their way into the German lines at several points on the southern part of the battle line in France.

Notwithstanding the bad weather which has caused somewhat of a slackening in the violence of operations, Field Marshal Haig's forces have materially encroached upon Cambrai and St. Quentin, while farther south the French armies are pressing eastward on the old Noyon sector toward La Fere and Laon and northward from Soissons in an auxiliary maneuver with the same objectives in view.

The French have pressed forward to the little village of Le Hamel on the Somme and have occupied it. This puts the furthestmost advance of the Allies to within five miles of the rail junction at St. Quentin.

British Take Old Positions.

Between the Vesle and the Aisne rivers, while the American troops are fighting with the French, additional ground has been gained by the Allied forces.

The British now are standing at Villers, six miles from St. Quentin, having carried out an advance over a 10 mile front on the general line of Epehy, Hesbecourt and Vermand. To the north the greater part of the Havincourt wood, one of the German strong points barring the way to Cambrai, also has been captured.

So rapid has been the British advance along this portion of the front that they now are in positions they held before the big German drive of last March. In these positions the Germans are offering stout resistance to further progress by the British.

French Surround Forest.

Gradually the French are working their way around St. Gobain forest, north of Soissons, in the movement that aims at the outflanking of La Fere and Laon and all the German positions east of this region. They have reached the outskirts of the village of Servais, on the northern edge of the forest and 2½ miles from La Fere. While a short distance to the north they have taken the village of Mennessis on the St. Quentin canal, eight miles from St. Quentin.

North of the Aisne, near Soissons, the Germans are fighting hard to keep the French in check, realizing that the gain by them of much more territory in this region, in conjunction with the maneuver that is in progress around St. Gobain forest will place the entire German defense line eastward toward Rheims in a critical position. Near Laffaux and north of Celles-sur-Aisne the Germans have delivered strong counter attacks, but the French everywhere have maintained their ground.

Foe Reacts Near Ypres.

The Germans also are reacting somewhat south of Ypres, especially on the region of Ploegsteert, where the British are threatening the recapture of Armentieres. Counter offensive maneuvers here and east of Wulverghin were broken up by the British.

During the first week of September Field Marshal Haig's forces have taken more than 19,000 prisoners and large numbers of machine guns and quantities of stores.

"How is it that you have been to the library so often this week?" inquired the boy's mother. "Three books you have had, and not read one." "I know that," replied the youngster, "but they find me five cents last week for keeping a book out over time, and I goin' to make 'em earn it."

While he has been in charge of the church the membership has doubled, the church has been painted and redecorated inside and out, a new furnace installed, and many other improvements made.

Rev. Crist believes in making social ability one of the prominent essentials of religion. His work as an organizer has been generally recognized and he has made the church not only the religious but also the social centre of a large part of Northeast Brainerd. The church has been a sort of neighborhood club house.

When he took charge of the church there was not a young man in the Sunday school or belonged to the church. He has built up a Sunday school class of over twenty young men, many of whom belong to the church, and often the attendance at the preaching service is more than half composed of young men.

His only reason for resigning is on account of health. He is afflicted with winter bronchitis, and Minnesota's severe winters are too hard on him. Last week, while in Minneapolis, he consulted a noted specialist who advised him to change his location. Just where he will locate has not been decided upon. He has had several fine offers, but has accepted none of them as yet, but said that the condition of his health would compel him to seek a congenial climate.

The state and local board of directors are already looking for a man to take his place, and in all probability will have a man secured by the time Mr. Crist leaves.

Rev. Wm. Lloyd Crist, pastor of the Peoples Congregational church for the past two years, tendered his resignation to the church board on Sunday morning, to take effect November first.

This article from the Superior Telegram of Superior, Wis., refers to L. W. Carson of Little Falls, formerly with the Indian service and now conducting a private detective agency:

Preliminary testimony was today taken in municipal court in the blind pig case against Emil Nygard, who is charged with selling liquor without a license and obtaining booze for parties who had the price. Detectives L. W. Carson and associates were allowed to give their testimony, because it is thought that they cannot be present at the regular trial.

Carson testified that he and four other men had been imported to Superior to detect violations of the liquor ordinance, and that many of the raids recently made by the police had been on testimony procured and furnished by this quintet. He also told the court that the five men had been engaged by the mayor and city attorney and that each man was paid $5 a day and expenses.

"These men have been doing effective work," said Mayor Fred A. Baxter today. "They came here and were unknown to those who made a practice of violating the law, which enabled them to obtain evidence that the regular policemen could never get, because they are known."

"Some people may object to the stool pigeon system, but in my opinion it is the only way to get results. We are determined to make the town as clean as possible and to keep it so we must employ means that make the work efficient."

The financial records of the municipal court show that more fines and forfeited bail moneys were collected by the court during August than in any previous month in the history of the court, $4,865.98 being collected as compared with $4,352.92 for last April, the second largest since the court was established.

"But there is a great difference between the source of the fines in April and now," Mayor Baxter declared. "In April the poor victims of the liquor vendors were arrested and made to pay the fines—in other words they were penalized for patronizing the saloons. Now we get our money chiefly from the men who derive financial benefit from the traffic. And we make one of them pay as much as 20 drunks would pay."

EDWIN HARRIS BERGH
GIVES VIOLIN RECITAL

First Concert of the Season by a Local Musician on Friday,
Sept. 20th

TO BE GIVEN AT ELKS HALL

Program Entirely Composed of Violin Solos—Accompanist Mrs. Walter F. Wieland

The first concert of the season by a local musician, is the one to be given Sept. 20th by Edwin Harris Bergh. Mr. Bergh has not appeared in a recital program in Brainerd for four years and the concert should pack the Elks hall to capacity.

The program is entirely composed of violin solos that are considered of the highest type. Mrs. Walter F. Wieland, whose accompaniments are always so helpful to a soloist, will assist. Mr. Bergh has spent three months at the lake preparing this program and he says it has completely restored him to his former self and as it were, obliterated some sad experiences of the past three years.

One of the leading features of the recital will be Mendelssohn's famous concerto in E minor. The program in detail will appear in the Dispatch later.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE

Mrs. W. C. Cobb at State Speakers Meeting Regarding Y. W. C. A. Publicity Campaigns

Mrs. W. C. Cobb was called to Minneapolis last week to attend a conference of state speakers for the Y. W. C. A. publicity campaign, that is to precede the great merger drive for more than a hundred million dollars for auxiliary war work.

The organizations that are to merge their efforts in this campaign, are the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Library Association, the Knights of Columbus, the Salvation Army and the society in charge of training camp recreation.

Mrs. Cobb has agreed to present the claims of the Young Women's Christian Association in this campaign.

Business Meeting

The regular monthly business meeting of the Swedish Bethany church will be held tonight. Business of importance to be transacted and all members are urged to be present.

Harvest Home

Yesterday morning a large congregation gathered to enjoy the Harvest Home service held in the Methodist church. The pastor delivered a much appreciated sermon on the theme, "Grain-filled Granaries," in which the message was that of gratitude to God for his munificent hand so bounteously extended toward us at this critical period in the history of our nation when food is one of the greatest factors in winning the world war.

The church was elaborately decorated with the fruits of farm, garden and field, which were artistically arranged by the decorating committee and much appreciated by the congregation. One of the features of the service was the baptism of ten little children brought for consecration by their parents.

Tuesday evening will be a continuation of the Harvest festival occasion. The dining room of the church will be decorated and the Annual Harvest Home Supper will be served by the Ladies' Aid society of the church. This will take place from 5:30 to 8 o'clock. Music will enhance the occasion. This event is open to the public who are invited to patronize the supper and thus help the church along. Don't forget the time and the place.

Eastern Star

The regular meeting of the Alpha Chapter of Order Eastern Star, will be held this evening after two months' adjournment.

CHILD WELFARE BOARD MEETING

Crow Wing county's first Child Welfare board met and organized Saturday with L. P. Hall of Bay Lake president and Mrs. Carl Bentley of Brainerd as secretary. Other members present were County Commissioner Wm. Syreen, Mrs. Irma Camp Hartley, county superintendent of schools, and Mrs. Bert Sabin of Mission, the latter serving in place of Mrs. Knights of Pequot.

The meeting was also attended by Mrs. W. C. Deering, county chairman of Child Welfare work.

Dorcas Society

The Dorcas young people society of the Swedish Bethany church will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Swanson, six miles south of Brainerd on Friday evening. Anyone having a car who will take a few out are asked to notify Miss Nora Swanson.

AMUSEMENTS

At the Best Today

Alice Brady will be seen at the Best theatre today in her sensational screen success, "The Ordeal of Rosetta," her latest Select Picture, written by Edmund Goulding, scenarioized by Paul West, and directed by Emile Chautard.

The story of the play concerns the adventures which befall Rosetta and

Lola Gelardi, the twin daughters of an aged professor whose home in a Sicilian village is destroyed by an earthquake during which Lola is buried by the falling debris. Hoping against hope that Lola escaped the disaster, the professor and his surviving daughter come to New York, where Rosetta support them both by learning stenography and securing a position in a typist's agency. While there, she is called upon to deliver a manuscript to the office of a theatrical manager; an artist who happens to be present is struck by her beauty and gets her to pose for him. He takes a sketch of her face, but, unknown to her, uses it to top a risqué figure on a poster advertising "The Frivolities of Nineteen Eighteen."

Later, Rosetta becomes the secretary to Aubrey Haggood, a prosperous novelist. The poster is discovered by a girl who is angling for Aubrey, and when she confronts the new secretary with it, the distracted girl protests that the portrait is of her twin sister. The next day, however she makes full confession to Aubrey, and it so exhausts her that she falls into a stupor and dreams that Lola has come to New York, where the sisters become involved in a sequence of thrilling incidents.

When she awakens, it is to hear Aubrey's declaration of love; there is a little country church near by, they enter it, and the clergyman makes them one "till death do them part."

At the Best Tomorrow

The problem that confront a man whose wife, as years pass, becomes lazy, slovenly, careless of her appearance and habits, and who finds himself turning involuntarily to a more delectable picture of femininity, embodied in a woman who is dainty, sweet and attractive—this forms the basis of the story of "Old Wives for New," the new C. B. de Mille special Artercraft picture, which is to be shown at the Best theatre tomorrow.

A remarkable cast headed by Elliott Dexter, Theodore Roberts, Tully Marshall, Florence Vidor, Wanda Hawley, Helen Eddy, Sylvia Ashton and others, is supplied and the play was written by Jeanie Macpherson from the novel by David Graham Phillips.

DEBATE ON BILL
WILL NOW BEGIN

Chairman Kitchin Finishes His Explanation of War Revenue Measure.

LIQUOR TAX REVISION

Order Prohibiting Manufacture of Beer After Dec. 1 Will Necessitate Amendment of Beverage Schedule and Delay Final Action.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Chairman Kitchin of the ways and means committee has concluded his explanation in the house of the history making revenue bill which imposes more than $8,000,000,000 in taxes on the American people and authorizes twice that amount in Liberty bonds for next year.

Probable effect of prohibition legislation on the nation's revenues was frankly discussed by Mr. Kitchin in explaining the beverage section of the war tax measures. He also took up the war and excess profits features as well as those affecting corporations and luxuries.

General debate on the bill will continue this week and leaders revised their predictions for passage of the measure next Saturday. They believe now that minor committee revisions, possibly of the liquor tax because of pending prohibition legislation and debate, will prevent a final vote before Sept. 17 or 18.

Substitute for Rum Tax Needed.

In his address Mr. Kitchin said the bill should be enacted by both houses of Congress by Nov. 1 and he expressed the hope that another war revenue measure next year would not be necessary, although he said that if national prohibition is enacted new tax series will have to be found to replace the $1,250,000,000 estimated tax on alcoholic beverages provided for in the present measure.

Such legislation, Mr. Kitchin said, probably will not come before next year, although the administration order announced, stopping the manufacture of beer Dec. 1 next, will cause a loss under the present bill of about $120,000,000.

Future upward revision of taxes, Mr. Kitchin stated, must be met under conditions existing after the prohibition legislation is passed, and if it is necessary to find new tax sources, several hundred millions can be obtained by tariff increases, gross sales and consumption taxes.

Corporations Not Hit Hard.

Praising the alternative plan of imposing war excess profits taxes on corporations according to the highest returns to the government, Mr. Kitchin declared corporations are not "hit hard" by the bill, which he asserted is satisfactory as a whole to Secretary McAdoo.

Ability of every one to pay the taxes imposed, Mr. Kitchin insisted, had been considered in drafting the bill. In this connection, he said, "a stupendous amount" of bonds must be floated before July 1.

Tobacco taxes, Mr. Kitchin explained, are doubled by the bill, while the luxury imports hit real luxuries. The automobile taxes, he thought, were "rather high."

BRITISH PRESS IS PLEASED

Papers Praise Publication of Submarine Toll Records.

London, Sept. 9.—Publication by the British admiralty of the names of the commanding officers of 150 German submarines disposed of by the British navy to substantiate the statement of Premier Lloyd George that "at least 150 of these ocean pests have been destroyed," was welcomed by the British press.

The newspapers point out that of these 150 German officers, only one escaped.

This was Waldemar Bender, who escaped when his submarine was sunk and is believed to have made his way back to Germany.

Of the remaining 149 officers, 116 are dead, twenty-seven are prisoners of war, and six are interned in neutral countries.

WHY DO MEN WEAR HATS?

Really, When You Come to Think of It, They Are of Little Use and Not Ornamental.

Men themselves do not know why they wear hats. Hats aren't ornamental. They do not keep off the rain. A man's hat is a legacy of tradition, brutalized in its descent from the age of adornment. Straw hats are the least awful.

The derby, the iron lid of common phraseology, is a tragedy, and the silk hat is useful only to lend dignity to men who otherwise might be undignified. This dignity is traditional rather than real. Bridegrooms, undertakers and members of congress need all the dignity they can command. So they keep the silk hat handy.

Spring, which brings the straw hat, is welcomed by men, since it removes the hideous necessity of wearing other sorts of hats. The straw hat rouses a dim memory in the blood of the days of garlands. It may be worn with a bright band. On the whole, it makes life a little easier for those who haven't the courage to go without hats at all.

SAILS ON TRANSPORT

Secretary of War Baker Has Arrived in France.

Official Party Includes John D. Ryan and Major General Gorgas.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Secretary Baker, accompanied by an official party, including John D. Ryan, assistant secretary in charge of aircraft, and Major General Gorgas, surgeon general of the army, has arrived in France the war department announces.

Mr. Baker and his party made the trip on an army transport which carried its usual quota of soldiers to France. Before leaving this country, the war secretary said the personnel of his party would make plain the purpose of his second visit to France and that he hoped the trip would not keep him away from the United States for a very long period.

It is understood that Mr. Ryan went abroad for the purpose of familiarizing himself with the airplane situation overseas, and went to inspect the factories engaged in building planes for the American army.

Surgeon General Gorgas will inspect the American army hospital overseas. Brig. Gen. Frank T. Hines, chief of the embarkation service, who also accompanied Mr. Baker, will visit the American ports of debarkation in France to acquaint himself with facilities and conditions in those places. Lieut. Col. George H. Baird, military aide to Mr. Baker, is in the secretary's party.

STATE FAIR HUGE SUCCESS

All Attendance Records at Minnesota Exposition Broken.

Minneapolis, Sept. 9.—The Fifty-ninth annual Minnesota State fair broke all records for attendance. Last week 433,836 persons passed through the gates while the largest previous attendance in 1917 was 397,199. The difference, 36,637, is the margin that makes this the largest State fair in Minnesota's history.

Thomas H. Canfield, secretary of the Fair association estimated that the total receipts would aggregate $325,000 and the net profits would be at least $50,000. The sale of concessions brought $23,000 according to Frank B. Logan, superintendent of concessions, which is about $3,200 more than was realized a year ago.

NATURALLY.

"Motorists never have a good word to say for pedestrians."

"Of course not. It is the nature of things for them to be continually running pedestrians down."

ITS MERIT.

"You call this portrait of your wife a beautiful work of art? I must say it is not a speaking likeness of her."

"That's the beauty of it."

They were brought from Chicago on a special train, which was switched directly inside the prison walls.

RESULT OFF SLACKER RAIDS

Fifteen Hundred Men Inducted Into Military Service.

New York, Sept. 9.—More than 1,500 men were inducted into military service and 15,000 others were adjudged seriously delinquent as a result of the slacker roundup in New York and Northern New Jersey early last week. Charles F. DeWoody, chief agent of the Department of Justice, announced a total of 60,187 men were examined.

Wealthy Austrian Ordered Interned New York, Sept. 9.—The internment of Julius Pirnitzer, an Austrian who is said to have received $20,000 a year as president of the Trans-Atlantic Trust company, taken over by the alien property custodian some weeks ago, has been recommended to the government. It was announced here by Rufus W. Sprague, Jr., director of the alien enemy bureau. Pirnitzer is declared to have offered his service to the Austrian government in any capacity and without remuneration, as recently as last January.

The Social Conscience.

The most important discovery of the present age is not the discovery of the telephone, or of wireless telegraphy, or of the antitoxins of disease, but the discovery of the social conscience. Never before in the history of the world have people been so touched by social sympathies, so moved by social passion, so eager for social amelioration. Wage-earners and capitalists, philosophers and plain people, wise and ignorant, are equally concerned for this application of social duty. When some philosophical historian recalls the character of the present age it may well be that he shall describe it as the age of the social question.—Rev. Francis G. Peabody, D. D.

ROLL OF HONOR

Claude Fogelstrom, of the U. S. Navy is spending a short furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Fogelstrom. He will return to his ship the U. S. S. Arizona on Tuesday.

Private Albert Lind, a baker in the army, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Lind of Southeast Brainerd, has arrived safely in France.

Corporal Arthur Thon has arrived safely over seas.

Corp. Geo. P. Allen, Co. A, 313 Supply Train Co., has arrived safely in France in word received by his sister, Mrs. C. A. Lagerquist.

Harry Fullerton has received a call and will soon be in training.

Charles Geminder, owing to under weight, was turned down by American and Canadian recruiting officers. He served in the Home Guard of some Mesaba range town and will now leave for Stillwater to work in an ammunition factory. "I'm going to face bullets some way or another and do my share," said Charlie. "If I can't go over there, I'll work over here."

Corporal Lester E. Hitt, for the last five months student at Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh, Pa., has now left there for the Langley flying fields, Virginia, where he will continue his studies as an observer, and receive more practical lessons as an aviator. Young Hitt is in the best of health and fine spirit and is hoping to soon be in line to go across to do his part of punishing the huns.

Erik Bruhn of the Marines, who recently was wounded, is back to his company again feeling better than ever. He writes: "I sure was lucky to get through alive. A shell lit about three feet away from two of us, and we both went down, scores around us were instantly killed; but it was a pleasant surprise when I came to, fourteen hours after, in a Paris hospital to find I was only slightly wounded in my neck and jaw."

ON GASOLINE SAVING

Dispatch Reader Replies to "Road Hog" Communication, Wants Gasoline Request Revised

Box 268, Brainerd, Sept. 7th.

Editor Daily Dispatch:

Your anonymous communication, headed "Seat Hog, Road Hog, Just Hog," would have carried more weight if the writer had had the courage to sign his name, or pen name. Any man is a good soldier behind the lines (of print) but any man shows courage to present himself to the foe. As a reader of your family journal I rise to say my say but I am trying to be consistent with my above complaint. If you are good enough to publish this "communication," I am ready to allow some other briefless attorney to ponder it.

Now that the Fuel Administrator has requested that pleasure car owners abstain from Sunday joy riding, to the end that gasoline be conserved for war uses and victory to our arms, the Road Hog will have the road to himself every week day while the shopman (and all toolers) is working to help win the war. On Sunday, the shopman's only day for recreation with his Ford, the Road Hog will not inconvenience those who are willing to take a chance on him, or who are able to cure the Hog by administering a "haymaker," as your communication terms the remedy for road hogging. I respectfully and also patriotically suggest that the gasoline request should be revised so that the shopman could cure the Road Hog. Here is the prescription: Place gasoline under a control similar to sugar, limiting every automobile owner to a certain number of gallons per week, say ten gallons. Then permit the car owner to operate his car whenever he wishes and as long as the gas holds out. The limited supply of gasoline would be the best conservator of gasoline. It would be more just and democratic; it would be more in harmony with present-day war regulations. Limit the gasoline if you will but please do not discriminate between Sunday and Monday workers' days of joy riding. Let the workingman enjoy his day of rest but limit the idlers' waste of gasoline on week days.

JOHN HOLLANDER.

NATION PUTS WAR AHEAD OF POLITICS

50 REPORTS PROMINENT REPUBLICAN WHO HAS BEEN TOURING THE COUNTRY.

ALL ARE BACKING PRESIDENT

Casualty Lists Show It Is Easier to Kill or Wound American Soldiers Than to Capture Them—Johnson's Small Page Exhibit.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Perhaps, after all, when President Wilson remarked that "politics is adjourned," he was stating a fact that existed throughout the country in spite of everything that the politicians are trying to do. A Republican of prominence who has been a member of the national committee recently returned from a trip throughout the country extending from Washington to California.

"The strangest thing that I observed," he remarked upon his arrival in Washington, "is the fact that I found no one who would talk politics. On the other hand, everybody was for the war and earnestly determined to support the administration in the prosecution of the war. As nearly as I could see, the country is behind President Wilson, and although I am a staunch Republican, I firmly believe that if an election for president were to take place tomorrow, President Wilson would be elected regardless of its being a third term. So far as I observed, the people are in deadly earnest for this war and in support of the administration which is prosecuting it."

The debates in congress on the draft extension bill showed conclusively that a great many senators and representatives did not believe that a sufficient number of men for army service had been procured between the ages of 21 and 31. Senator Pomerene of Ohio made a very strong speech in which he criticized the failure of the "combing process" and he remarked that there were too many men placed in deferred classification. "Too many young married men have been allowed to escape military service," said the Ohio senator. "It is ridiculous to say that only such a small proportion of men between the ages of 21 and 31 were found available for military duty." Senator Pomerene was firmly of the opinion that it was unnecessary to take boys of 18 and 19 when so many well-to-do men had been placed in deferred classes under the previous draft.

A comparison of the totals mentioned in casualty lists and those listed as prisoners of war in Germany shows that it is easier for the Huns to kill or wound American soldiers than it is to capture them. No doubt the majority of the few Americans now in German prison camps were temporarily disabled in some way before they could be captured. It is not an American trait to cry "ham-mered," but rather to keep on fighting until death or unconsciousness steps in. That is one reason why our casualty lists have been comparatively small.

Considerable comment was aroused in the house when Congressman Johnson of Washington exhibited a 108-pound page in a soldier's outfit as an argument that boys of 18 are too young to be drafted. One amusing reference to Johnson's action was made by Congressman Langley of Kentucky. "I do not believe," said Langley, "that there is a single member of this body with the possible exception of Uncle Joe Cannon, who could not outpoint that boy in any physical contest, and I am not so sure but that even Uncle Joe might come out of it the master." But on the other hand, as one member put it, there are other eighteen-year-old boys that could outrun and outjump any man in the house and outlast any two of them.

When the report of the senate subcommittee to investigate aircraft production was ready for presentation it was brought up by Senator Thomas of Colorado, chairman of the subcommittee. In presenting the report he said that the committee on military affairs had instructed him to have it read, so the secretary of the senate began reading. Before very long, however, the Colorado senator interrupted: "In view of the fact that the reading of this report does not seem to command the presence of the senate, I ask that its further reading be dispensed with." That report was too important for senators to listen to it. They wanted to get a copy and read it.

Never a congressman or congressional party finishes a trip through the war area without at least one narrow escape from death. Stories that come back from time to time assert that Senator Blank or Congressman Dush has barely missed being exterminated in an air raid or by an enemy shell. Doubtless when the adventurous ones come back to this country they will also be subjected to many sarcastic remarks from their colleagues regarding their ability to withstand gas attacks because of experience with them before in senate or house.

Some Pointed Words For Nogales Mexicans

GEN. DE ROSEY CABELL

"If another volley is fired by you people," said General De Rosey Cabell, in command of American troops at Nogales to the Mexicans across the way, "I will take every man I have and go over and get you and everything you have. We are through with this nonsense."

So there will be some peace on his part of the border.

ADOPTS NEW POLICY

War Department Changes Casualty List System.

Only Names of Dead and Missing Will Be Cabled—Wounded Coming by Couriers.

Washington, Sept. 9.—A new policy of reporting casualties in the American Expeditionary Forces has been adopted by the war department. The names of wounded men will be sent to the United States by courier twice a week and only the names of the dead and missing will be cabled by General Pershing when the system is perfected.

In making this announcement General March, chief of staff, said General Pershing had not heretofore sent in the names of men slightly wounded because generally the men had returned to duty before the names reached the United States. In reply to an inquiry from the department, General Pershing had reported, General March said, that there were 20,000 casualties up to Aug. 20.

Under the new plan, the names of all the wounded will be sent to the United States by courier, together with their hospital records, so that a statement of the diagnosis can be furnished to relatives of the men.

EXPLOSION KILLS 35 MEN

Admiral Sims Reports Torpedoing of the Mount Vernon.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Thirty-five members of the crew of the American army transport Mount Vernon, formerly the North German Lloyd liner Kronprinzessin Cecilie, were killed by the explosion of a torpedo which struck the vessel last Thursday when she was 200 miles from the French coast, homeward bound. The passengers included Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, who was among those safely landed after the transport returned to a French port under her own steam.

Vice Admiral Sims reported to the Navy department that the torpedo struck the transport on the starboard side, flooding No. 4 fireroom, but he did not state the extent of the damage.

CONTINUATION IS USELESS

Turkish Grand Vizier Says War Will Soon End.
 Amsterdam, Sept. 9.—Talaat Pasha, the Turkish grand vizier, in an interview published in the Vienna Neue Freie Presse, said he firmly believed that peace should come before winter. Talaat is now in Vienna.
 Talaat said the war had exhausted itself and its achievements and that its continuance was manifestly useless.
 "All our enemies, not including America," says Talaat, "will shortly come to recognize that there is no sense in continuing the hostilities."

WAR CONGRESS IS DOING VERY WELL

IS PRACTICALLY UNANIMOUS IN VOTING EVERY MEASURE THE GOVERNMENT ASKS.

VOICES NATION'S SENTIMENT

Pairing of Members on Important Votes Often Works Injury—Senator Reed Thinks Russian Situation Presents Critical Problem.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington.—Although every congress and a great many congressmen are subject to criticism, the country ought to be very well satisfied with the war congress in the greatest of all wars. Many members have had to change their views radically; many have had to swallow their personal views in order to support administration war measures; many have had to take a complete back track on all past records and convictions; but the fact remains that legislation wanted by the administration has been voted with a substantial unanimity to show that congress is behind the government.

This is particularly the case in regard to the recent draft legislation. It was pretty hard for a lot of members of congress, in view of the pleas of mothers against having their boys taken from them to fight in the trenches, to vote for lowering the draft age to eighteen years. At the same time, when it came to the final test the bill was passed with an almost unanimous vote in both houses. In the senate Senator Gore of Oklahoma first voted against the bill, but afterward withdrew his vote in order to make it unanimous. In the house the only Socialist member and a Democrat who has been discredited by his own people were the only votes against the bill. This substantial unanimity of congress no doubt voices the prevailing sentiment all over the country.

What Speaker Clark terms "an excessiveness upon the 'body politic'" is the pairing of members of congress when any important vote is taken. While complaint is not made very frequently about the pairs, it often happens that an injury or injustice is done to some member by being paired wrong. Results have not been affected very much in the house by pairs, although it was said that the woman suffrage amendment was aided to a considerable extent by the manipulation of pairs when that close vote was taken. The juggling of pairs in the senate has on several occasions affected the vote on very important measures. This has occurred also on occasions when two-thirds votes are taken. The question of pairs prevented a vote on the woman suffrage amendment two months ago, and as long as there are vacancies or very sick senators it may cause a delay when the suffrage amendment is again brought forward. But as the matter of pairs is one of personal arrangement between senators and representatives, there does not seem to be any way of remedying it.

That the German people as a whole are to blame for the war, and not merely the kaiser and his military associates, is the view expressed by Senator Lodge of Massachusetts in his able speech outlining the aims of the United States. "We are not engaged in this war to try to arrange a government for Germany," said Lodge. "The German people must do that themselves, and they will get precisely the government that they desire and deserve—just as they now have the government they prefer, whose purposes and ambitions and barbarism they share and sustain. Our part and our business is to put Germany in a position where she can do no more harm in the future to the rest of the world."

Senator Reed of Missouri is interested in all important public matters that come before the senate, but two subjects to which he most often recurs are the Russian situation and the government war boards and commissions. It is Senator Reed's firm belief that the Russian mix-up is one of the hardest problems confronting the allies. "To my mind," said Reed in a recent speech, "it is absolutely suicidal to allow Germany to exploit and absorb the vast riches in man power, in money, and in material that lie yonder in Russia." The Missouri senator went on to predict that within two years, provided the war lasts that long, the allies will have to put an army of 1,000,000 men in Russia to counteract German influence there.

During the discussion of the 18-to-45 draft bill in the house, many were the references to "children of eighteen." Any eighteen-year-olds who were in the galleries for a half-hour at a time had a lot to think about and what they thought would be worth knowing. The climax came when Congressman Moon of Tennessee spoke. "Who is this eighteen-year-old boy that you will consign to war?" asked Moon, plaintively. "He is only a child yet, clinging to the knees of that mother who taught him his prayers; a tender bud blooming into manhood." All the hard names in the English language couldn't have made an eighteen-year-old fellow feel as insulted as that "tender bud."

Two Stars Who Will Twinkle in France

BENNY KAUFF

RUBE MARQUARD

Benny Kauff, the irrepressible outfielder of the New York Giants, for whom a large sum of money was paid by that club is here shown in his army uniform with Rube Marquard, of the Brooklyn team. Rube is now a member of the mine sweepers section of the United States navy. Rube, who has had his ups and downs as a pitcher, was the first high priced twirler of modern baseball. The Giants bought him from the American Association Club of Indianapolis for $11,000.

TRIED TO MURDER 2, THEN COMMITS SUICIDE

Mike Peterson in Fit of Jealousy
Fires Revolver at Former Wife,
Mrs. Annie Peterson

SHOOTING CLAUDE M. WINTER

Then Turns Weapon Upon Himself
and Drives Bullet Into His Brain
Saturday, Midnight

In a fit of jealousy Mike Peterson, near midnight Saturday, shot at his divorced wife, Mrs. Annie Peterson, and the bullet went wild. He then shot Claude M. Winter through the jaw and turned the 38 revolver on himself, committing suicide with a bullet through his brain.

Peterson tried to commit suicide a year ago by cutting his throat and has been in failing health. The tragedy took place near Mrs. Peterson's home at 923 Seventh Avenue Northeast.

In the coat of Peterson, Deputy Coroner Neil O'Brien found the copy of the divorce decree, which was issued October 8, 1917, and which freed the wife from the bonds of matrimony and gave her the custody of the two children, Lillian, attending business college and now 16 years old and Mary K., age 13, staying at home.

According to the story told the deputy coroner and B. C. McNamara, the undertaker, Peterson had been at the home of Mrs. Peterson during Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Peterson and Mr. Winter had motored down town and also saw him there.

Near midnight Winter had the Peterson car, an Overland, near the house and the forks of the road.

Peterson is said to have rushed from the clump of trees and bushes and fired point blank at Winter, the shot penetrating the base of his jaw and coming out of his mouth. He ran to the house and begged to be let in.

Peterson tried the doors after Winter had found safety within and then broke into a back window and fired from the kitchen at Mrs. Peterson.

Peterson then ran to the brush near the house, threw away his hat, lay down and fired the revolver, the bullet going through the top of his head and killing him instantly.

Deputy coroner and officers found him with the gun in his hands. Winter was removed to St. Joseph's hospital. During the shooting, Lillian was at the house and telephoning for the police. Peterson carried some industrial insurance. He had worked as a stationary engineer at the power plant of the railway shops and was also later a cinder man.

Employees had noticed his queer actions recently and suspected that he was unbalanced.

The funeral will be held Tuesday from the McNamara chapel.

The coroner's verdict was death by self inflicted gun shot wound. No inquest was held. Deputy Coroner Neil O'Brien deeming that unnecessary. He questioned all knowing about the circumstances, viewed the body and then gave his verdict.

START FARM LOAN ASSOCIATION HERE

Farmers Met at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms on Saturday,
Consider Organizing

APPLICATIONS FOR $15,000

Another Meeting Planned for Saturday, Sept. 21, and Effort Made to Have More Present

Eleven farmers met at the Chamber of Commerce rooms last Saturday afternoon for the purpose of considering the organization of a Federal Farm Loan association with Brainerd as a center. The meeting was called by County Agent E. A. Colquhoun in response to a request from farmers who were desirous of having such an association formed.

The federal law provides that applications for at least $20,000 must be secured before an association can be organized. Those present at the meeting represented applications for only $15,000 so no permanent organization was perfected. It was voted to call another meeting Saturday, September 21st, and an effort will be made to have more farmers present.

Should it develop that there are not sufficient applications at that time to form an association, then the Federal Land Bank of St. Paul will be asked to appoint some local agent to take care of the loans in the district covered by the applicants.

GASLINE-LESS SUNDAY OBSERVANCE

Police and volunteers of the city checked up close to 100 people in Brainerd using cars Sunday. The list will be tabulated as compiled by special agents in cooperation with the safety commission and local police and transmitted to the proper authorities.

Various excuses were given by violators of the request to conserve gasoline. Readers may see that Brainerd is gaining undesirable publicity by not observing the request.

BRD. COOPERATIVE CREAMERY MEETING

Most of Equipment Arrived and Orders for Supplies Have Been Placed by Company

TO OPEN CREAMERY SOON

Board of Directors Planning for a
Big Farmers Rally on the Opening Day in Brainerd

The board of directors of the Brainerd Cooperative Creamery association held a meeting at the office of County Agent E. A. Colquhoun last Saturday and considered matters of importance to the creamery.

The building committee were given authority to accept the building when completed and settle with Contractor Alex Nelson.

The system of records that are to be kept by the secretary were gone over and the order for books for his use approved. The creamery association will use the same system of bookkeeping that is used in the state creamery at Albert Lea. This system provides for a complete record of cream received, and the test for same, sales, monthly inventory, monthly statements to stockholders, etc. Order books are to be left with grocersmen that desire to handle the creamery butter.

Most of the equipment for the creamery has arrived and an order for supplies has been placed. It is expected that the creamery will be ready to open in a week or ten days.

The board of directors are planning for a big farmers rally the day of the opening. The stockholders will be notified and asked to bring in their cream and all both vats the first day. They will be requested to bring their families and lunch baskets along and take dinner at the creamery building and inspect the plant. James Sorenson, State Dairy and Food Commissioner, or some other good speaker from the state department, will be secured to address the meeting.

The creamery association is having constant inquiries as to when they are going to open. Parties are calling for cream, butter and buttermilk and are anxious to have the business started. Housewives of Brainerd will be interested to know that it will be possible to get the kind of cream that they want in the future. The buttermilk will be sold out some of the best cream and pasteurized and bottle the same for sale to customers. It will be possible to get cream that you know will whip, as this will be made a specialty. Whipping cream should test 30 to 40 per cent and should be two or three days old.

KAISER AND SYSTEM PLAYED BY SPEAKER

Dr. F. Osten-Sacken in Address at Methodist Church Reveals Prussian Iniquities

WORLD WAR PLANNED IN 1876

When Allies Push Germans to Border of Germany, Internal Revolution Will Follow

At the First Methodist church on Sunday evening Dr. F. Osten-Sacken, a Prussian, the military system, the economic life, the government, compared German conscription with America's selective draft and predicted that German people would soon revolt and shake from the throne the Hohenzollern dynasty. It would be but a short time when Kaiser Wilhelm would either commit suicide or face banishment.

The world war was planned by Germany from 1876 on and at that period was directed against England and Russia, England because of her growing navy and trade and Russia, because of its rich provinces. But like the criminal who plans and then misses simple essentials, Germany stumbled over Belgium and America. One was supposed too small to fight and the other too self-centered.

He predicted that in a short time there would be such an upheaval in Germany, greater than that country or any country had ever seen. When the German armies, pushed back to their border land, were evidence that the supposedly divinely appointed all highest and all the other highest were not supermen, but plain clay who had deceived the German people and stolen their birthright, the awakening would come suddenly and the revolution follow.

All German government was planned for self aggrandizement of the emperor and his court, and to deceive the people. The German school system was dual, one for the poor and one for the rich. The state church had state appointed preachers. The government was controlled by the kaiser. In one of the best districts the votes of 346 noblemen equalled 22,384 of the poor, gun fodder class. In one of the worst represented the vote of one nobleman balanced the vote of all the thousands of poor in the district.

Dr. Osten-Sacken was born in Germany and holds degrees from both European and American universities. He was a member of the autocracy himself but forsook royalty, wealth and influence for the principles of American democracy. For years he has been an instructor in eastern colleges and for twenty-five years has been on the lecture platform.

He speaks again in Brainerd on Friday, Sept. 13, at a large mass meeting.

NOTICE

In order to comply with the wishes of the food administration we will go on a cash and carry system Sept. 15th. There will be no delivery direct to consumers after Friday, Sept. 14. Delivery to stores, hotels and restaurants will continue as before.

C. A. LAGERQUIST.

American Economist Held.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Information reaching the War department and made public today is that Henry C. Emery, the American economist, captured when the Germans seized the Aland Islands, is now in the Berlin clinic at Weller, Germany. The State department was notified in June that Mr. Emery was held at Charlottenberg, near Berlin, and inquiry was made then as to whether he was held as a civilian or a military prisoner. So far as known no reply has been received.

LANDS AVAILABLE FOR RETURNED SOLDIERS

Conferences Held at State Fair Attended by Men of Different Organizations

GOVERNING BOARD IS NAMED

Northern Minnesota Development Association Represented by Secretary F. T. Lincoln

A state-wide movement, having as its purpose active co-operation with the federal government in making available lands for returned soldiers after the war was set in motion at conferences held at the state fair grounds last Monday and Tuesday and attended by representative men of different organizations of the state, among them Fred T. Lincoln of this city, secretary of the Northern Minnesota Development association.

Governing Board. As a result of these conferences, a governing board of five men will be named to represent the following organizations:

St. Paul Association, Civic and Commerce Association of Minneapolis, Northern Minnesota Development Association, Red River Valley Development Association and Duluth Commercial club.

This gives representation to the three larger cities of the state and the two leading development organizations. At the conference were: Charles P. Craig, of Duluth, father of the movement; Daniel Wallace, St. Paul; E. A. Farmer, Minneapolis; H. C. Selvig, Crookston, and Fred T. Lincoln, Brainerd.

Tentative Plan.

After a governing board of five men, representing the organizations mentioned has been named, each organization will name a sustaining or co-operating board of five men to assist their chairman. The plan is to call the attention of the Secretary of the Interior to the large available acreage in Minnesota, particularly the northern part, for the purpose suggested, namely, farm homes for returned soldiers. Secretary Lane has already taken up the subject with the federal government and it is to be a nation-wide movement in the interests of the boys over there on their return to their native states.

Financed by Government.

Uncle Sam is expected to finance the proposition, in a manner not as yet made public and the vacant lands of the north, south, east and west will eventually be converted into homes for the soldiers with an easy payment plan promulgated which will make it possible and profitable for them to turn their minds to husbandry, and with certain prospects of earning a valuable home ahead of them. It will also mean the rehabilitation of vacant lands and the fulfillment of a duty every community owes to the men now fighting for this nation across the water.

A Convention Feature

The subject and reports on the progress of the plan will be made an important feature of the N. M. D. A. convention at Grand Rapids in November and will be thoroughly discussed by men who are giving their time and money to the great work entailed in bringing it to a successful issue. Charles P. Craig of Duluth, a prominent financier of that city and one of the most active public spirited men of the state, suggested the idea and it was at his call the representatives of different organizations met in Minneapolis for lengthy conferences on the subject.

N. M. D. A. Representative

The N. M. D. A. will name a representative on this board within a week and the permanent organization will soon be perfected. Hard work and co-operation on the part of all Minnesota men of affairs, it is urged, will mean more in the nature of permanent and desirable land development in this as well as other sections than has been accomplished in the past ten years of more.

The press is giving the plan much favorable comment and keen interest is indicated in every section of Minnesota. In the northern part, where more lands are available than in any other section, the movement is being given strong endorsement and when the plan is finally worked out by the governing board and endorsed by the federal government, loyal and energetic support from every county is assured.

Prepare For the Hot Wave

The hot sun is doubly dangerous if there is a mass of undigested food in the stomach. Foley Cathartic Tablets give prompt and sure relief. They act gently but do their work thoroughly. They cleanse the bowels, sweeten the stomach and benefit the liver. For indigestion, biliousness, bad breath, bloating, gas, H. P. Dunn, druggist.

O. A. PETERSON TO TRAINING CAMP

Well Known Brainerd Clothing Man
Age 38, Talks it Over With Wife and Two Daughters

ENLISTS, GOES TO CAMP PIKE

Enters Training Camp as Private and Will Endeavor to Get Officer's Commission

O. A. Peterson, age 38, well known clothing man of Brainerd and member of the firm of Bye & Peterson Co., left today for Camp Pike, Arkansas.

Mr. Peterson talked it over with his wife and two daughters and they decided Uncle Sam needed his services. He enters Camp Pike as a private and will work to gain an officer's commission.

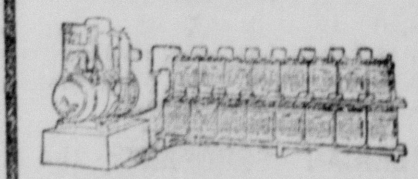

He has seen years of national guard service, is an expert rifle shot and well posted on military matters and his friends are assured he will make good. At the station this afternoon were relatives and friends, although many other friends were not aware of his resolve.

"Where is the band?" said Mr. Peterson in a joshing mood. He had helped on so many occasions to round up farewell parties for others.

The firm continues as usual and the two partners remaining, John Bye and W. E. Erickson, will see that business is carried on as usual and will no doubt be larger when Brainerd learns of the patriotic work of Mr. Peterson.

RESERVES ARE SCARCE

Three Instead of Four Companies in Food Battalions.

Military Efficiency of Boys in 1920 Class Is Very Low, Due to Food Shortage.

Washington, Sept. 9.—Persistent reports of unrest in the German army, authentic stories of mutinies on German warships, and the known disaffection among the various peoples of the Austro-Hungarian empire, are attracting the keenest interest here and stimulating the speculation over possibility of a breakdown behind the German lines.

Secretary Lansing indicated that the situation was receiving careful attention.

Battalions Below Strength.

Further evidence of the drain on German power during the fighting of the last few months reached Washington in official dispatches, which quoted captured enemy documents.

Numerous German battalions now are composed of three companies, instead of four, it was said, as reserves were not available to keep four company units up to necessary strength.

In this process of consolidation 40 German regiments are said to have been wiped out entirely.

It also is stated that the men of the German class of 1919 are rapidly disappearing and those of the 1920 class must be drawn upon to fill gaps.

The dispatches note that the military efficiency of the class of 1920 is very low, as the boys are exhausted by under feeding before they joined their regiments.

POSE AS FISHING VESSELS

Two German Submarines Are Reported Off Atlantic Coast.

An Atlantic Port, Sept. 9.—Two German submarines, disguised as fishing craft and carrying sails are operating a few hundred miles off the Atlantic coast, according to information transmitted to the naval authorities by the officers of British and French steamships arriving here.

Officers of the British vessel said they became suspicious of two sailing vessels sighted about dawn, traveling six miles apart. Suddenly the sails came down and puffs of smoke appeared. The English captain crowded on speed and escaped after an all-day zig-zag fight.

The French vessel reported an encounter at about the same locality, the Frenchman fighting off the submarine after an engagement lasting several hours.

ASKS CITIZENS TO REGISTER

Minnesota Governor Says Every Man Should Do His Duty.

St. Paul, Sept. 9.—Governor Burnquist appealed to every Minnesota man to do his full duty next Thursday—the next general draft registration day. Denouncing all who fail to register as enemies of freedom and democracy, the governor continued:

"The man who stands back now is lost; lost to the ranks of citizenship; lost to the mother who bore him; lost to the father who gave him a name; lost to the flag that protects him; lost to the nation that calls him; lost to the world that needs him. His day of birth is henceforth a day of dishonor. He can never name it without a lie. His time has come and he has denied it. He is a man without a country; an outcast."

WRITES TO FRENCH PREMIER

Polish Patriot Asserts Germany's Plans Cannot Succeed.

Paris, Sept. 9.—The masses of the Polish nation are diametrically opposed to the tendencies of these Polish politicians with whom Germany is attempting to negotiate, declares Count Zamoyski, chairman of the National Polish committee. In a letter he has written to Premier Clemenceau voicing satisfaction over the recent Allied victories.

The German efforts to win Polish sympathy and assistance will be fruitless, the count is emphatic in asserting, as Poland has never doubted that her future lay with the Allies and in the triumph of their cause.

AMERICAN SERGEANT SLAIN

Another Fatally Injured at Angers by French Apaches.

Paris, Sept. 9.—Sergeant Elmer O. Rawdon of Akron, Ohio, who was seriously injured when he and Sergeant Wilcox of Wellsboro, Pa., were attacked by a band of young Apaches in the old French city of Angers, is not expected to recover. Wilcox, who was killed, was wounded six times.

The assailants of the two American soldiers were Marcel and Maurice Choisy, brothers, aged 16 and 18 respectively, and Francis Evano, 16 years. The three Apaches were arrested.

Accused of Hoarding Sugar.

New York, Sept. 9.—The first case in which the criminal section of the Lever Food Control act has been employed against alleged food hoarders in this city, the Federal Food board announced will come to trial Tuesday.

Rudolph Oelsner, a wealthy importer, will appear in the United States district court to answer charges of hoarding sugar. Oelsner is charged with having purchased 10,000 pounds of sugar in the spring of 1917, and, foreseeing a sugar shortage, stored it.

YANKEE SOLDIERS WELL FED

It Cannot Be Said That in Any Way Uncle Sam Stints His Fighting Men.

More than a billion pounds of meat a year and an equal amount of pure wheat flour are required for the American army bill of fare. That imposing total will increase rapidly as the United States enlarges its fighting forces in France and the divisions in training on this side of the Atlantic. Uncle Sam does not stint the quality or quantity of food for his husky fighting men. There is a bountiful supply of every essential foodstuff on a carefully balanced menu that provides more calories than the rations of any other army in the world. Twenty-seven standard articles figure in the list from which mess sergeants select material for the daily meals. They are beef, bacon, flour, baking powder, beans, rice, potatoes, onions, tomatoes, prunes, jams, apples, peaches, coffee, tea, sugar, milk, vinegar, pickles, salt, pepper, cinnamon, lard and lard substitutes, butter and oleomargarine, sirup and flavoring extracts. Even with this elaborate selection, and notwithstanding the mounting cost of food, the government finds it possible to give the boys in khaki all they can eat for the modest sum of 41 and a fraction cents a day. The soldiers get many articles of food, however, that are not included in the "standard" list. Supply sergeants are instructed to vary the diet by purchasing eggs, chickens, green vegetables and fresh fruits. This plan is followed in France as well as in the United States. Under favorable circumstances poultry and fresh vegetables and fruit are served in the front-line trenches. Uncle Sam believes that Napoleon was right when he said that "an army fights on its belly."—Thomas F. Logan in Leslie's.

CAUGHT SPIRIT OF OCCASION

Colored Porter Meant That Eagle Should Shine in Celebration of American Victory.

It happened after the news that the allied forces were chasing the army of the crown prince. There was great rejoicing on the steps of the customhouse building. Everybody was shaking the hand of everybody else. The man who had never before been known to lose his dignity was pulling the hair of the office boy and whooping it up generally.

All of which was at first rather incomprehensible to the colored porter of the building. He didn't know just what it was all about, but it looked good to him, nevertheless. Finally, he seemed to "get" it. With the agility of a cat he climbed one of the pedestals at the front of the building.

On the top is a bronze globe, with a spread eagle over it. Hanging precariously on the ledge, the negro pulled a grimy cloth out of one pocket and a can of paste out of another. Then with a vim and vigor that had never before characterized any of his actions he began polishing away at the eagle's head. While he polished he talked:

"Oh, lady, lady, we're goin' to make you shine! Oh, lady, that shine'll take the eyes out of dem Germans! Oh, lady, that head o' your'n is goin' to be some bright!"

And the other celebrants stopped to cheer him.—New York Times.

Bravery and Buttons.

"When I was in the ranks," John's second lieutenant tells him (John Edward Martin is the recruit hero of "The Single Star," by Capt. F. D. Grierson), "our crowd was inspected by a famous general. When he'd looked at every badge and button he said: 'Lads, remember that the biggest dandy makes the best soldier!' What he meant was that the man who takes a pride in himself and keeps himself smart whether he's on parade or square-pushing 'round the town—that men's going to be the fellow you can rely on when bother happens. Cleaning buttons may seem all d— nonsense to a man who's come out to fight for his country, but it's not. It's just one of the little things that help to make up the big things—and the big things'll come along fast enough, don't you worry."

The Cabman Knew Him.

During a lecture tour through the United States Sir Conan Doyle arrived one day in Boston and was considerably astonished when a cabman accosted him and addressed him by name. "How did you know who I was?" said Sir Conan Doyle, much interested, and not a little flattered by the recognition.

"If you'll excuse me saying so," said the cabman, "the lapels of your coat look as if they had been grabbed by New York reporters, your hair looks as if it had been cut in Philadelphia, your hat looks as if you had had to stand your ground in Chicago, and your right shoe has evident Buffalo mud under the instep, and—and—"

"And what?" queried Sir Arthur.

"Well," replied the cabman, "I saw 'Conan Doyle' in big white letters on your trunk."—Boston Transcript.

Want Home Iron Plants.

New Zealand imports iron and steel products at present at the rate of about $20,000,000 a year, and demand is increasing. It is proposed now to attempt the development of a home iron industry. Iron deposits at Parapara, in the Nelson district, are estimated to contain from 50,000,000 to 60,000,000 tons and there are coal deposits near at hand.

Husband and Wife

Mrs. Frank P. Wood, Box 18, R. F. D. 2, Morrill, Me., writes: "Foley Kidney Pills help me so much. My husband also has received much benefit from them. He was so lame he could not stoop over and now he feels no pain." Lame back, sore muscles, stiff joints, rheumatic aches and pains quickly conquered by Foley Kidney Pills. H. P. Dunn, druggist.

Urgently Needed.

A doctor sat in a front seat in a theater the other night. In the breathless silence, as the third act neared its climax, there was a commotion near the door, and then a grave voice said: "Is Doctor Blank in the audience?"

Doctor Blank rose calmly. He passed down the aisle with the serious, self-contained air of one on whom the life of a fellow-creature depends. A young man awaited him at the door.

"Well?" said the doctor. "Well, sir, what is it?"

"Doctor," said the young man, as he drew a large wallet from his breast pocket, "I'm Cash and Payup's new collector. Would it be convenient for you to settle that small account this evening?"

Children's Music.

We need more good music for children. We need music that will do more than entertain them with Mother Goose tales and simple incidents of nature life. We need music which, in the days when they are wax to receive and marble to retain, will lift and inspire them to the real thoughts that are deep in our own hearts.

The great sentiments, the great truths are simple. They are not too hard for children. Many of these things can be understood by children alone. In our education we have erred. We wait too long to tell our children the big things of life. We clutter them up with trifles. So also in music.

Minds, like bodies, can only grow on real food.—New York Evening Mail.
